RULES AND REGULATIONS
In addition to state fish and wildlife laws, this property is governed by posted regulations affecting the public use of lands and facilities owned, leased or licensed by the Department of Natural Resources.

HISTORY
Acquisition of the land, which comprises Glendale Fish and Wildlife Area (FWA) began in 1956, and land purchases were made through the 1960s. Several minor purchases were made in the 1970s. The construction of the dam that formed Dogwood Lake began in 1963 and was completed in 1965. The lake was renovated in 1978 and restocked with fish in 1979. Average depth of Dogwood Lake is 8 feet. Most revenues used in land acquisition, development, operation and maintenance of Glendale FWA are derived from the sale of hunting, fishing and trapping licenses. Funds are also received from the federal Pittman-Robertson and Dingell-Johnson programs to aid fish and wildlife restoration. These funds are derived from taxes levied on sport hunting and fishing equipment. Indiana hunters and fishermen are proud to provide this property for the enjoyment of all.

Glendale Fish and Wildlife Area is dedicated to providing quality hunting and fishing opportunities while maintaining 8,060 acres of land and over 1,400 acres of lakes and impoundments.

FISHING
Glendale Fish and Wildlife Area provides over 1,400 acres of available water — 22 ponds and Dogwood Lake. No check-in is required for fishing. Some areas including Dogwood Lake are restricted or closed during waterfowl seasons. Ask at headquarters for restrictions.

Traffic
Traffic on public roads through the area is governed by state and county laws. Traffic over service roads and trails, except by authorized vehicles, is restricted to walking.

Camping
Camping, picnicking, and open campfires are allowed in designated areas only. Unloaded firearms, unstrung bows and arrows, and air guns may be possessed, but not used in camping and picnic areas. All weapons, except validly licensed handguns, must be stored or carried in a case, or locked within a vehicle while in these areas. No swimming is allowed.

Permits
In addition to a hunting and/or fishing license the following permits are required:

- Permission to hunt during the day on Glendale Fish and Wildlife Area must be obtained before entering the field. Daily hunt permit cards must be in possession of the hunter and recorded through established self-service procedures outlined at the check station. Self-service drop boxes are located on the property for your convenience.
- Night and predator hunting is only permitted by daily permit cards from the property manager.
- A permit from the fish and wildlife headquarters is required to enter the waterfowl resting areas.
- Collecting permits are required from the property manager or IDNR for the collection of anything except nuts, berries and mushrooms.

Responsibility
The Department of Natural Resources Division of Fish and Wildlife will not be held responsible for any accidents or deaths occurring from the use of these facilities.

FUNDING FOR FISH AND WILDLIFE

The DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife sells hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses. All revenue is used for managing fish and wildlife resources in Indiana. No license money goes into the state general fund.

The Division also receives money from the federal Sport Fish and Wildlife Restoration programs (sometimes referred to as Dingell-Johnson and Pittman-Robertson funds). The funds are derived from excise taxes levied on sporting arms and ammunition, bows and arrows, fishing equipment and motor boat fuel. The funds are then returned to state fish and wildlife agencies using a formula that in part is based on the number of fishing and hunting license buyers.
