“Women all over the world are no longer waiting, waiting for things to happen for them. They are more actively engaged in ensuring that their livelihoods and the livelihoods of their families are much more enhanced than ever before.”

- Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, 1st Female President of Liberia and 2011 Nobel Peace Prize to a UN assembly

“I believe, I know, that if you have unshakable faith in yourself, in your sisters and in the possibility of change, you can do almost anything.”

- Lehmah Gbowee, a 2011 Nobel Peace Prize recipients, in her recent book, Mighty Be Our Power
